

Profile

Khaja Salauddin Ahmed

Email: khaja.s.ahmed@gmail.com

Cell: +8801678170237

Khaja Salauddin Ahmed is an Associate Barrister in a corporate law firm and advises general members of the public, local public, private and government entities as well as multinational organizations, agencies and corporations on various facets of Corporate and Commercial Law, Employment and Labour Law etc. Khaja Salauddin has received specialised training and is thus well conversant with the workings of various Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) avenues. He has also successfully represented clients' interests in a number of Negotiations, Mediations and Arbitration proceedings.

Professional membership and qualifications

- Barrister-at-Law of Lincoln's Inn, London
- CEDR (UK) Accredited Mediator
- Trainee, Advanced Arbitration Training Programme, International Law Institute, Washington

Academic qualifications

- Post Graduate Diploma in Law, University of Northumbria at Newcastle, UK
- Bachelor of Laws (Hons.), University of London, UK
- Higher Secondary Certificate, Notre Dame College, Dhaka
- Secondary School Certificate, Motijheel Ideal School and College, Dhaka

Academic engagement

- Part-time lecturer, Newcastle Law Academy, Dhaka

Languages

- Khaja Salauddin is fluent in English and Bengali.

Publications

- Can a handsome salary snatch away the employment rights?
An article on the extent of protection offered by existing legislative provisions of Bangladesh to a certain class of employees, published in The Daily Star on February 11, 2014
- Ensuring governance in NGOs
A legal opinion regarding the existing governance structure of NGOs and Civil Society Organisations in Bangladesh and analysis of the effectiveness of the existing mechanisms along with recommendations, published in The Daily Star on April 1, 2014